Objective

A position as a designer where I could exercise my skills in graphic design, interface design, and web development in a team.

Professional Experience

Lead Designer, Spotlight Mobile

October 2009 – Present

In my current position, I direct the visual design for all Spotlight Mobile products and marketing materials. The diverse tasks I have undertaken here include designing and developing several websites, laying out various projects for print, and creating interface mockups and production graphics for a multitude of iPhone apps.

Web Designer, R2C Group

July 2009 – October 2009

Here I worked as a part of the advertising agency's Interactive team to conceptualize and execute online ad campaigns. My work here involved laying out flash and banner ads, designing and coding websites, and crafting email stationary for use in marketing campaigns.

Web Developer, Vidoop LLC

August 2007 – May 2009

At Vidoop, I was involved with many parts of front-end development. Highlights of my work there include:

- Created graphics for web and print.
- Collaboratively constructed the visual identity for multiple products.
- Designed the user experience, layout, and look of multiple websites and web applications.
- Developed several web applications and their interfaces, in addition to prototyping, coding, and testing them.
- Devised and implemented the user experience for a novel password manager solution.

Vidoop was a wonderful learning opportunity. I had a chance to become fluent in standards-compliant HTML, JavaScript, cross-browser compatible CSS, Python, PHP, XSLT, and XUL, in addition to using Adobe Illustrator, Photoshop, and InDesign.
